The Specialist Versus The Old Family Doctor

Dr. Willard C. Rappleye, dean of the Columbia college of physicians, says the day of the general practitioner is gone. What he means is that the era has passed when a sick man could get anybody to listen to him for $2.

The age of the specialist has been sweeping over us at high speed and today the doctor's bill at times brings more pain than the ailment. The old-time family doctor who was no one-line marvel but who could make you feel better without financial complications has about disappeared, as Dr. Rappleye says. And it saddens us.

The old-fashioned doctor was often wrong and frequently stumped but he was always deeply and personally interested. He lacked the specialist's brain, but his heart was in the right place. His greatest virtue was a sense of obligation to any sick call, regardless of money, time or distance.

He lacked plenty of stuff but he would answer a call in the middle of the night and get to a patient through mud up to his buttocks and snow up to his chin.

He would go wherever a man could carry a bag, a stethoscope and a smile.

Even when he wasn't very good as a doctor he cheered you up as a fellow man.

He would see you at the office most any time without preliminary palaverings or negotiations, and there was no pay-as-you-enter system, no portal to portal contacts with outly' secretaries and no impression that you were in luck to gain admittance.

The first words of the old time general practitioner were "Lemme see your tongue." The specialist doesn't want to see it. It over-simplifies the matter and is strictly a two-dollar routine.

NEW FACES—NEW SET UP?

Andover's finance committee, with a couple of new faces, met for its initial organization meeting on Monday evening. The two new members should be valuable assets to the committee, but new faces aren't so important in this case as the adoption of a new concept of finance committee work.

Last year's committee was composed of a good group of men who acted to the best of their ability in accordance with what they felt was the correct theory behind finance committee work. However, if the committee is to mean anything to the Town of Andover, it should be a much more active, a much more vital, even militant, if necessary, part of town government. It's a job that should be pretty much a year-round task, because it is impossible to get a proper knowledge of town expenditures in just a few weeks before town meeting.

It might be well for the committee to set for itself a definite program for the year's work. At town meeting, for instance, there was some question about comparative salaries between departments. In order that that question can be properly answered in the future at town meeting, the finance committee should look into the whole town salary set-up pretty carefully. It would not be out of place either at this time to examine closely the town's administrative organization and to make recommendations for any changes which would mean more economy and efficiency in town government. The schools, of course, should be studied very carefully, both from an administrative and an educational standpoint, with a view in mind of presenting definite recommendations for the next town meeting, instead of providing the nebulous leadership that was provided on this question at the recent town meeting.

The departments themselves should co-operate with the finance committee much more than they have done in the past. Heretofore, the committees have taken actions during the course of the year which have meant permanent increases in their budgets. The school committee, for instance, will put on an additional teacher in some school. The Board of Public Works will establish an engineering department. Then in January, when the finance committee begins to look into things, these boards come forward with their budgets with these new things all included. It has meant that the finance committee has pretty much had to accept these actions, for some of them are very hard to undo. It would be much better and much fairer to the people of Andover if the boards would invite the finance committee to sit in on the discussions whenever they are thinking of doing something that would permanently increase their budgets.

The finance committee is an advisory board. It is something of a middleman between the voters and the departments. It is a committee which has the task of surveying all-town expenditures and of giving advice to the departments so that the total appropriations will be in keeping with the town's ability to pay. We are looking to our 1947-1948 committee to do a job that will re-establish the finance committee as a very important one in our administration.

PERMIT PERMITS

There was a time when you couldn't even legally get a permit to build a fire in April or May. Now you can build one in those two months, but as is the case throughout the rest of the year, you do have to have a permit. It's best not to take a chance even when you're absolutely sure that your burning will be confined within a safe area. Chances are the smoke might be observed from a fire observatory tower, and even if there is no danger, someone in the department might get a bit upset if the tower calls the station. We know.

So by all means do call the fire station before you start your fire. They will tell you whether conditions are safe or not, and they might even tell you to hold off for a couple of hours, since early evening burning is generally safer than daytime burning.

Americanism—

Dear Mr. Grover:

This letter is written from the very middle of the Great Smoky mountains, that long stretch of high hills that is the dividing line between North Carolina and Tennessee. These mountains are entirely different from our White Mountains or Green Mountains of New England and the Rocky Mountains or the Sierras of the West. The foliage is beautiful. As you drive along, the sides of some mountains will be covered with rhododendrons, while the next will be completely covered with laurel.

On our way down, we stopped over in Washington, and I had a very pleasant visit with our congressman, Tom Lane. The House was not in session that day, but the Senate had a night session for which we received courtesy permits to attend.

From Washington we made a side trip to Williamsburg, stayed there two days, and saw what life the Colonial settlers led when they started to build these great United States. We also visited Yorktown, where Cornwallis surrendered to Washington. There is a very tall monument telling the inspiring story of what happened on that spot, and about one fourth of the way up the monument are carved in very large letters these words:

One Country — One Constitution — One Destiny.

If the youth of school age were taught more of this kind of teaching, communism could never raise its head in the U. S. A.

Truly yours,
JAMES E. GREELEY

WHERE TO GO...AND WHEN

Strictly From Hollywood

April 12 is the date set for the "Breakfast in Hollywood" program to be sponsored by the Union Congregational church in the Ballardvale room to honor the returned servicemen. Harold Bailey will ad lib as master of ceremonies but the orchid award to the eldest guest and the prize beauty kit will be sent directly from the Tom Breneman show in Hollywood. It is not yet known whether Mr. Bailey will distribute the Tom Breneman kisses or whether they, too, will arrive by mail but it is a sure thing that the program will be packed with fun and laughter.

The hall will take on the semblance of a restaurant with tables set for refreshments. Letters nominating the "good neighbor" will be welcomed and should be mailed to members of the servicemen's committee which includes Mrs. Ernest Edwards and Mrs. Leslie Hadley.

Servicemen of Ballardvale will be invited and only a limited number of tickets will be on sale. Make your reservations early as tickets will not be sold at the door.

No More Messes

Speaking of servicemen, it's becoming an established custom that Army messes should now be referred to as breakfast, dinner and supper although an occasional "chow" might be permitted to slip out here and there.

The Quartermaster Corps has not issued any agreed upon terminology for the building wherein the meals are served, however, and we'd welcome information from any present serviceman as to the current practice. Do you say, "I'm going to the mess hall for dinner," or do you continue the formality by saying, "I'm going to Uncle Sam's restaurant for a spot of lunch?" Sounds like a lot of unnecessary verbal red tape. The good old days of "mess" lend itself much more aptly to the vernacular.

Cecilia Society Season Soon

The Cecilia Society under the direction of Arthur Howes, in the opening concert, April 16, at Symphony hall, will present a program of choral and piano music ranging from the 16th century to the 20th. The society will open the program with a motet and Kyrie of Palestrina, followed by two ballet madrigals by Morley, all examples of 16th century choral polyphony.

Following this, Percy Grainger, guest artist, will play his first group of piano works, which will include "The Carman's Whistle," by William Byrd, two sonatas by Scarlatti; and four Bach choral preludes, transcribed for piano by Busoni. The Society will resume with Samuel Wesley the Elder's motet for double chorus: "In Exitu Israel," and two motets by Brahms: "Wherefore" and "The Wall of Heaven."

For his second group Percy Grainger will play four modern compositions: "Michaelchurch," by Balfour Gardiner; "Pierrot Piece No. 1," by Cyril Scott; his own transcription of George Gershwin's "Love Walked In" and Balakirev's "Islamey," an Oriental fantasy. In keeping with the modern feeling of this group of piano works, the last group of choral music will include 20th century original compositions and arrangements of English folk songs: "Soldier, Soldier," "Australian Up-Country Song" and "Briggs Fair" by Percy Grainger, and the "Wassail Song," "The Turtle Dove," and "Just as the Tide Was Flowing," by Vaughn Williams.

All Nations

"The Meeting of the Nations," a program presented by all the children of the Shawsheen school, will be given on Wednesday, April 9, in the Shawsheen school hall. Ireland, Scotland, England, Russia, Holland, Germany, Japan, France, and many other countries will be represented with appropriate songs and dances in costume.

The committee is as follows: Miss Anne Harnedy, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Muriel Dorr and the teachers of the school.

Toy Minstrels

The Toy Town Minstrels, young people of the Ballardvale Union Congregational Church between the ages of 12 and 18, have been busily practicing the past few weeks for the musical production they will present in the Community room on May 2 and 3. The Ways and Means committee of the Friendly Guild are in charge with Mrs. Ralph Sharpe and Mrs. Robert Mitchell as general chairmen.

Driggs of 5 Hartigan court, became the bride of Corporal Paul G. Cheney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Cheney of 83 Maple avenue on Sunday afternoon. Carnations and sweet peas adorned the bridal table. Lives Saved By Quick Action Of Baggage Man

Benjamin Locke of Highland road, baggageman at the local Boston and Maine railroad station, by his quick thinking and bold action last Friday morning, averted a serious accident which may have resulted in the loss of several lives.

The 10:20 a. m. express to Boston was stopped on the further track, and several passengers were crossing over to board it, when a freight which was shifting cars, came along the inside track, near the station. Mr. Locke who was near the scene shouted to the people who were in the path of the freight and pulled one to safety.

One eye-witness stated "Ben Locke's action Friday morning seemed to me the boldest, quickest, smartest action I have ever seen, or expect to see. I think that certainly two people would have been killed, and probably half a dozen if he had not happened to be there. I would like to see that man get some medal of distinction."

PONY BITES BOY

Five-year-old David Lucey of 9 Abbot street celebrated the arrival of spring with a trip to the zoo at Spot Pond Saturday, with his parents. He was especially impressed with a pony, and extended a friendly hand to feed it. The pony was over anxious, too, and bit not only the food but the hand.

VETERANS HOUSING COMMITTEE MAKES PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR ACTION

A housing committee appointed by the Board of Selectmen or by the veterans' organizations which they represent met in the Court Room March 27 with J. Everett was not elected during the proceedings, as it was suggested by Mr. Hardy that the nominations should come from the veterans, and the election should take place at the next meeting, April 10.

Representing the veterans' organizations were Commander William Hulse of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Miss Elizabeth Buchan of the AMVETS, and Paul Mc-Donald, representing the American Legion, was absent. Frank P. Markey represented the Veterans Service office.

Local builders present were Edward P. Hall, Fred W. Doyle, and John Avery.

Since it is first necessary to make an approximation of the number of veterans requiring living quarters and the housing requirements according to the individual's ability to pay, a questionnaire will be mailed from the Veterans Service office the first of next week, and returns must be in immediately so that a report may be made at the April 10 meeting.

At the same time, the Board of Selectmen agreed to make a survey of available land for housing and of property that can be converted to apartments. The builders are planning to inspect the plans of houses being built in other communities at a cost of $6,000 or thereabouts.

Veterans are urged to fill out the information requested and return it to Mr. Markey's office before April 8 to prevent any unnecessary delay. Volunteers are asked to meet in the Veterans Service office Monday night at 7:30 to assist in addressing of the forms to be mailed. Mr. Hulse and Miss Buchan said that they would contact their organizations for workers, and Mr. Markey said that he would obtain Legion representatives.

The meeting adjourned at 11:00 o'clock.

OUR COVER

The first play put on by the A. P.
C. Sorority in several years,
"Bachelor Bride", had a professional touch that made the romantic adventures of Mrs. Standish, played by Mrs. Nancy Shea, and the plot against her, by the other women in the cast, all the more intriguing.

She is pictured on the front cover untangling a few wires in a telephone conversation while Mrs. Mildred Wright as Mandy Sue listens in.

The presentation was put on before a full house in the South
Church both Thursday and Friday nights, and to the large audience present there were no hitches.
However, back stage there were a few misgivings, as it was learned that Miss Frances Videto who was to have taken the part of Mrs.

Cheney, had developed laryngitis and could not go on. Mrs. Dorothy Guild, who was in charge of make-up stepped into the vacancy and gave an excellent performance.

Other parts well-portrayed were:
Mrs. Jameson, Mrs. Margaret Rob-
bent; Marilyn Jameson, Miss Ruth Anderson; Mandy Sue, Mrs. Mildred Wright; Mrs. Oakley, Mrs.
Betty Fitzgerald. Mrs. Ruth Taylor played the only masculine part.

Mrs. Gordon Colquhoun directed the play and Miss Marion Hill was in charge of the ticket sales.

Punch and candy were served between the acts.

Tales of the South Pacific

Tales set against the background of the South Pacific, told by a young naval officer whose duties on an Admiral's staff take him up and down the islands. These are not entirely pretty stories, but have a rugged quality that belonged to the time and the situation.

I Name Thee Mara Gilligan
In the brief space of years between the two World Wars is the action of this story of two ships and four brothers. Gloucester, Grand Banks, Labrador and the Northwest Atlantic—over all these the search for a missing brother ranges.

Portable D. H. Lawrence Lawrence
Some of the best of D. H. Lawrence's writings have been gathered together for this latest addition to the "portable" series. Eight novelettes and stories, including "The Russian Officer," — episodes from two novels, poems, essays, etc., are offered the reader in this small book.

The Saint vs. Scotland Yard

The Last Straw Charteris
One Alone Shriber
The Wrong Way Down Siller
Where There's Smoke Daly
The Gold Girl Stealing
Raw Gold Hendryx
The Border Bandit Hendryx
The World And Africa Evans
The World And Africa Du Bois

The whole history of the continent of Africa and the amazing contribution that Africa has made to the development of the world's culture. Dr. Du Bois writes forcefully of the degrading silence on the part of the white man as regards these contributions of the Negro to his white exploiters. The author has written many books on the Negro and his place in society.

Science and Freedom Bryson
A thoughtful book for those who contemplate the problems of achieving a good society in a free world, especially as scientific thinking can influence such a state.

Complacent Dictator Hoare
In the spring of 1940 Sir Samuel Hoare left the War Cabinet to become His Majesty's Ambassador to Franco Spain. Obviously, his task was to help keep Spain neutral. This is the story of what happened to him from the time he left Madrid that mission until he left Madrid Through Russia's Back Door Lauterbach

A report, based on the author's trip from Shanghai to Vladivostok and thence to Moscow, where he was assigned to study post-war conditions in Siberia, the borderland between the Soviet Union and the U. S. Life Magazine printed part of this report when it was made to them. It is a thoughtful evoking evaluation of the relationship possible between our country and Russia.

Critics And Crusaders: A Century of American Protest Madison

Collective biography of eighteen Americans who demanded and fought for freedom for his countrymen—each according to his own concept of freedom. Garrison, John Brown, Wendell Phillips, Margaret Fuller, Albert Brisbane, Edward Bellamy, Tucker, Henry George, Brooks Adams, Thorstein Veblen, Altgeld, Steffens and Eugene V. Debs are included.

New Books

Recent additions to the Memorial Hall Library, include the following titles:

Banner By The Wayside Adams
The author of "Canal Town" has delved again into the days back in our history and weaves a story around the adventures of a roving theatrical troupe touring the Erie Canal country.

The Dewy, Dewy Eyes Rosmond
A gay story of a dewy-eyed girl from the mid-west who was made over very easily into a sophisticated New Yorker, through the medium of the pulp magazine field in which she worked as assistant editor.

The Fire Eater Berkowitz
Ready to avenge any insult or slight to any of his people, this little Jewish boy, called the fire-eater, later in life took on the fight against the oppression by the Germans in the period of the first World War.

The Walls of Jericho Wellman
A personal feud between two men for power in Jericho, Kansas, involving so much more than their own positions, ambitions and success, becomes a violent struggle, encouraged by the position of their wives and a hand-made antagonism.

SPECIALIZED TRAINING REQUIRED IN COMPETITIVE SYSTEM

New members from the Andover District recently announced by Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, include Ronald Valentine, Chief Cost Clerk of the Tyer Rubber Company.

This association, along with other business and technical groups, has noticed increased interest in advanced training and knowledge.

Competitive business conditions have returned to post-war industry, and the complex problems facing management, resulting from a higher standard of living and higher wage scales on one hand, and increasing pressure for lower prices on the other hand are forcing men and women all along the line toward greater knowledge and specialized training.

This trend is manifested in several ways. Young men and women of college age are turning more and more to advanced courses in business and technical schools. Executives and departmental supervisors in industry are becoming more active in business organizations where subjects of technical interest predominate.

The trend toward specialized courses among students is a result of competition of jobs, the better trained applicant being the one with the greatest opportunity for advancement. The interest currently displayed by businessmen is a result of competition in business, the eternal trend under the American system of free enterprise being a motivating force compelling every business to strive for better goods at less money or fall by the wayside.

Playing Ball or Behind the Eight?

To the Editor of the Townsman:

Immediately following the proposals of Messrs. Allen and Daley at the Town Meeting as to pay for our police and firemen (which I voted against) I wondered if the proposals were "sprung" on the Selectmen then and there, without warning, or if the two gentlemen had discussed their ideas beforehand with the "Powers That Be."

It turns out in fact that they had taken great pains to discuss their proposals with the Selectmen beforehand.

Looking back, of course it would have cleared the air if Mr. Hardy in his remarks at the Town Meeting had first explained that Messrs. Allen and Daley had been in conference with him and that to that extent at least, the two gentlemen had played fair with him. Following which, Messrs. Hardy, Collins and Shepard, had the full right at the meeting to denounce the proposals, and to tear them to shreds. The Board of Selectmen did nothing of the sort. Instead, days after the meeting, the Board sent the two gentlemen insulting letters.

My special interest in the matter, now, is to help to make it well known to the voters that Messrs. Allen and Daley cannot be lightly accused, with any sense or reasonableness, of failure to "play ball" as gentlemen are supposed to play ball.

PHILIP W. THOMSON

Whose Responsibility?

March 18, 1947

To the Board of Selectmen, Roy Hardy, J. Everett Collins, Howell Shepard; and to the Board of Public Works, Sidney P. White, Fred Doyle, Edward Doyle, John Kelly, Sanborn Caldwell, Charles Gillard, Edward Lawson:

— COMMUNICATIONS —

Dera Sirs:

I have just been notified by Mr. Colver Stone that you refuse to repair or pay for any damage on Highland avenue that was done under your orders, the past seasons, by tearing up the surface of Highland avenue, and causing washouts. Mr. Stone told me that Roy Hardy admitted that the bulldozers had torn up Highland avenue badly. Still, all the above named officials of the town of Andover claim that you can damage private property at any time.

In an open letter to the citizens of Andover, published in the Andover Townsman, February 27, I stated that if the town officials are allowed to put things over on the people, they will do the same to the town of Andover. That statement has been verified. On March 17, Mr. Stone contacted Roy Hardy, and was told by him that Peter S. Myatt would have to sue the town before the officials would do anything. In plain language that means that you officials want me to put something over on the town instead of making an honest settlement of the claim. I am willing to show anybody where the tarvia of the road is today, thrown there by your plowing.

In regard to bringing suit against the town of Andover, I would not consider it, for to me, Andover is my home, and I could not hold my town responsible for the acts of the officials which I regard as personal.

As you officials have always ignored any suggestions that I have made, I am asking you, the mem-and the Board of Public Works, to give your answer to the citizens of Andover.

The issue is, "Can anybody damage private property without responsibility," and it concerns every citizen of Andover.

Respectfully,

Owner of Highland Ave.

PETER S. MYATT

Why Secrecy?

Dear Editor,

I have just been looking over your editorial entitled, "No Precedent, We Hope," and it is a consolation to know that the citizens of our town are to be enlightened as to some of its problems. It is no surprise to me, as to the actions of the officials towards its citizens, as I have in the past few years been able to accumulate quite a few facts regarding our town government. There are some facts that would not be of interest to all the citizens, yet it will affect them more or less through the activity of the Boards.

I have always been opposed to secret meetings, as naturally we don't put men in office to do anything we would be ashamed of. I for one would welcome open meetings of all Boards and Committees, especially to the press.

I was amazed to think that under the laws of the present officials, the citizens of Andover have to be censored before they can speak at the annual town meetings. Andover cannot be proud of such officials.

Respectfully,

PETER S. MYATT,

3 Highland Avenue

MARKETING with Marjorie

This is the season of the year when menus as well as wardrobes are likely to need pepping up, and you'll find a visit to your A&P a real spring tonic. I know I always get plenty of new ideas just from looking over A&P's wide selection of fine foods... and come home with plenty of grand values, too.

CONFECTION PERFECTION

This treat for the children is child's play to make: Melt 1 tbsp. of butter in saucepan; add ½ cup of sugar, ¼ tsp of salt and ½ cup of molasses; heat, stirring constantly until sugar melts. Then boil (stirring occasionally) till a small amount of mixture cracks when dropped in cold water. Pour over 6 cups of SUNNYFIELD RICE PUFFS in large bowl, stirring constantly. Form into about 18 balls. Children love SUNNYFIELD RICE PUFFS with fruit, too, so buy an extra package at your A&P!

ally) till a small amount of mixture cracks when dropped in cold water. Pour over 6 cups of SUNNYFIELD RICE PUFFS in large bowl, stirring constantly. Form into about 18 balls. Children love SUNNYFIELD RICE PUFFS with fruit, too, so buy an extra package at your A&P!

LUSCIOUS WITH LAMB

To make a perfect dinner partner for a roast, combine sweet, tender IONA CANNED PEAS from the A&P with cooked small white onions and chopped mint leaves. Whether or not March goes out like a lamb, I predict that you'll go for this delicious dish with your lamb!

MAKE IT SNAPPY!

Are you looking for a dessert that's a snap to whip up? Then line a 9" pie plate with 1½ cups of ginger snap crumbs mixed with ¼ cup of butter or margarine; chill thoroughly; fill with A&P APPLESAUCE and top with whipped cream. Smooth, tasty A&P APPLESAUCE is grand with gingerbread and griddle cakes, too, so stock up at the A&P!

HOLLANDAISE YOU'LL PRAISE

Strange as it seems, though hard to make, Hollandaise is easy to imitate. Here's how: Beat 2 egg yolks till thick; melt ½ cup of butter till creamy in appearance; add to egg yolks, beating constantly. Cook in saucepan over low heat till thickened. Remove from stove and add 1 tbsp. of vinegar or 1½ tbsps. of lemon juice. To give this mock Hollandaise the delicate flavor of the real McCoy, be sure to use fresh, high-quality A&P BUTTER.

On Vacation

Gym Activities

Three tournaments are being prepared in the gym just now. They are shuffleboard, ping-pong and hand-ball. Elimination contests are now being run off. All those taking part in these three activities will receive points toward letters and cups to be issued in June.

Assembly Program

At a recent home-room meeting in Room 8, the class tried out for talent for an assembly program to be given previous to Patriots' Day. The program will be half serious and half on the lighter side.

Library Notes

The new State Library Reading List for reading books for book reports has finally arrived in our school library. It is a very fine list and the first to be published since 1942.

Several new books have been added to those already on our shelves.

"Born To Command," by Helen Nicolay. This is about the life of General Dwight Eisenhower.

"Jerry Pepper," by Frances Rogers and Alice Beard, an historical novel which tells about glass blowing in the early days of our country.

"The Successful Secretary," a career story by Margaret Pratt. It is a series of Success Stories and concerns the lives of seven top ranking secretaries in the country.

"Future for Sale," another career story, by Adele de Leew.

Future Careers

Miss Katherine Sweeney, with Mr. Philip Weiss, both teachers of Guidance in our school, are planning an exhibit of Guidance material to be shown in the school library during the first or second week in April. There will be books, pamphlets, magazine articles, illustrated material, etc., all showing students careers that they may choose to enter, as well as opportunities for higher education.

Mrs. Walker, who sponsors the Secretaries' Club uses "The Successful Secretary" in her club as a reference book, and finds that it has much of value for the members.

Finances

Total profit from "Peck's Bad Boy," amounted to $195.14. We also received $52.92 from the Gym Team exhibition.

AT PUNCHARD...

By Jack Sherman

Assembly

Last Thursday morning, the students of Punchard had for a speaker, at their assembly, Miss Bertha Hughes, who spoke on the subject, "Food for Health." By explaining the needs of the body in relationship to food values, Miss Hughes told us the types of foods that we should eat each day for good health. After the speaker's talk, which was illustrated by slides, Mr. Lovely announced the Barnard Essays Speakers. This was done by reading the titles of the essays and the pen names. They are:

Let's Travel Alex Meek, '47
Yesterday and Today

Jeanne Kenney, '48
Motion Pictures Fred Cole, '48
Amateur Photography

Joan Gallagher, '48
Alaska: Our Northern

Frontier Richard Clough, '47
Evolution of the Automobile

Genevieve Murray, '47
Crossroads Jean Steinert, '48

Skiing for Pleasure
Deighton Emmons, '47

These essays will be delivered as orations on Friday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Auditorium. Why don't you plan to come and hear the ideas of the students in your Public High School?

Senior Stunt Night

Get your tickets early for Stunt Night, as this year's edition promises to be something well worth seeing. The whole Senior class is taking part, either on the stage, or in the stage crew. The tickets are now on sale and may be bought from any member of the Senior class. These students are divided up into teams, headed by members of the Senior Social Committee, which consists of Lynden Gilman, chairman; Patricia Collins, Carole Davies, Diane Mahoney, Catherine Craig, Mildred Richards, Marjorie Paine, Alex Meek, Deighton Emmons, George Colloten, Robert Henderson, Robert Wormwood, and Alan Petty. The program, which will be presented for your pleasure, will consist of an orchestral quintet, violin solos, tap dancing, pantomimes, piano solos, a sextet of boys, duet and chorus dancing, impersonations, skits, cartoon sketching, a burlesque of grand opera, and the finale. Don't miss this—and buy your ticket early!

Exhibitionists All

Those of the readers who saw the Springfield College Gym Team Exhibition, will certainly want to see the Punchard show of the same nature on Friday evening, April 25. There will be no admission charge. The Punchard boys have planned a full evening of entertainment on all sorts of gymnasium equipment.

Red Cross Course

Mr. Dunn's Red Cross class was instructed in the uses of the inhalator and the resuscitator last Friday, by members of the Fire Department. That is, some of the classes received the instructions. A fire interrupted the proceedings, so Miss Ruth Wescott, the school nurse, valiantly carried on in their stead. She did a good job, too, because we all know how to use the thing, even if we can't pronounce it.

College Boards

The Punchard students who are planning to take College Board Exams, April 12, are being coached by members of the Faculty on the proper procedure. They will take their exams at Phillips and Abbot.

QUIZ KID

PFC. DONALD J. DANE, GI son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Dane of 28 Cuba street, withstands the fire of questions from Red Cross club girl Helen Green of Breckville, O., during a "Star Your State" contest in Tokyo, Japan, where Dane is now stationed with GHQ. Even after several months in Japan, Donald doesn't have too much trouble remembering his home state, and is very glad to hang a star on it.

LINCOLN PORTRAIT INSPECTED BY ARTIST'S GRANDSON

Dana Soames, grandson of the artist Charles A. Barry, whose original drawing of Abraham Lincoln was discovered in the possessions of the Memorial Hall library, was among the many out-of-town visitors who have come to inspect the famous portrait.

Mr. Soames brought with him a photograph of an oil painting which his grandfather had done with the drawing as a model. He contributed the additional information that Mr. Barry had returned to Springfield after his first visit with Mr. Lincoln, and had made a study of the Brady photographs of the Civil war president. The painting is therefore not as unique as the drawing in that it softens the facial contours and is more characteristic of the later photographs and lithographs of Lincoln.

REQUIRED READING

When Winston Churchill distributed copies of his speeches to members of Parliament, a liberal representative from Devonshire sent this acknowledgment:

"Dear Mr. Churchill:

"Thanks for the copy of your speeches lately delivered in the House of Commons. To quote the late Lord Beaconsfield, 'I shall lose no time in reading them'."

BEATING THE GAME

"Madam, where did you get that?" asked the clerk in a self-service grocery, as he stared at a package of shortening atop her basket. "We had shortening yesterday, but it was sold out in a few minutes."

"I know," said the shopper triumphantly. "I was here yesterday, too, but didn't have enough money. So I hid the shortening in the store until today!"

LEAGUE ESTABLISHES POLICIES

Since both the Girl Scouts and the League of Women Voters have a common interest in the subject of active citizenship, the national board suggests that when possible, the leaders of the league should help to further the part of the Girl Scouts' program.

In its stand in opposition to tax reduction, the following statement was submitted to the House Committee on Ways and Means.

The League of Women Voters of the United States, representing 62,000 members in 525 cities and towns throughout the country, wishes to oppose any reduction in income taxes at this time. We do this for two reasons. First, it is our belief that when national income is high and business is prosperous, we have an obligation to reduce the national debt to the fullest possible extent. As a citizen group, we believe that citizen recognize the importance of cutting the large cost of carrying the national debt. We believe that citizens see that the way to cut the cost is to pay off the debt at as rapid a rate as possible. We believe that citizens understand that this will make for lower taxes in the long run, and that tax relief will be more appropriate in less prosperous times. Since the cost of financing the present national debt is at present five billion dollars annually—considerably more than half as much as the entire cost of Federal government in 1939—it seems to us imperative that present tax rates be maintained and the national debt paid off at as rapid a rate as possible.

Second, the League believes that high taxes are still needed to help keep inflation in check. We have long recognized that taxation is an important stabilizing factor in our economy. It is an even more important factor now, since most of the war-time controls have been abandoned. Inflation is still a danger until reconversion is complete and postponed demand for goods and services has been satisfied. In another year, the picture may have changed. Deflation may by then have become the danger, and tax reduction will become appropriate and necessary.

The Convention of the League of Women Voters, meeting in 1946, spent considerable time in discussing the government's role in helping to achieve economic stability. Discussion finally centered around three verbs,—control, counteract, and prevent. The representative convention decided that the League favored "governmental economic policies which prevent inflation and deflation and stimulate maximum production and employment." Acting within our adopted policy, the League of Women Voters at this time urges Congress to follow a courageous tax policy by maintaining present tax rates and thus preventing further inflation and contributing to the long-run economic stability of our nation.

In line with its national platform, the League is also supporting a bill, H.R. 2007, to declare a national policy against discrimination, based upon sex and to create a commission on the status of women.

PLAN SEASON AT OPERA GARDEN

The directors of the Opera Garden met Saturday night at the home of Horace Killam, Porter road, Andover. Reports of the officers were read and plans for the coming season were discussed. Organ Institute Opens First Session

Arthur Howes
To Serve as Institute Director

The trustees of the Methuen Memorial Music Hall announced today the opening of the first summer session of the Organ Institute, to be held from July 21 to August 16. Members of the Board of Governors of the Institute are Dr. Archibald T. Davidson, former chairman of the Department of Music at Harvard University; Dr. Wallace Goodrich, Director Emeritus of the New England Conservatory of Music; Moses T. Stevens, well-known patron of music and amateur organist and Arthur Howes, instructor in music at Phillips Academy, who will act as Director of the Institute.

Serving on the faculty of the school will be Mr. Howes, E. Power Biggs, noted organist and teacher, Carl Weinrich and Ernest White. Boarding students attending the summer session will be housed in dormitories on the Phillips Academy campus in Andover.

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall houses the tremendous four-manual organ which was in the Boston Music Hall from 1863 to 1884. This instrument was built in Ludwigsberg, Germany by E. F. Walcher and Co., who began work on it in 1857.

After its removal from the Music Hall, the organ was stored in the New England Conservatory of Music for 13 years, when it was purchased by the late Edward F. Searles, who brought it to Methuen, and housed it in its present building.

Both the auditorium and the organ are undergoing extensive repairs, but will be ready for a series of recitals beginning late in May. A drive of $50,000, to defray the cost of these repairs, will begin on April 7, and will continue until May 20.

No person shall set, maintain or increase a fire in the open air at any time except by permission, covering a period not exceeding five days from the date thereof, granted by . . . the chief of the fire department . . . ; and provided further that persons over the age of twenty-one may, without a permit, set, maintain or increase a reasonable fire for the purpose of cooking, upon sandy or gravelly land free from living or dead vegetation or upon sandy or rocky beaches bordering on tide water, if the fire is enclosed within rocks, metal or other non-flammable material. The forest warden, chief or fire commissioner, as the case may be, may make it a condition for granting a permit that any burning shall be done only after four o'clock (eastern standard time) in the afternoon, and he may revoke a permit at any time. The forester may make rules and regulations relating to the granting and revocation of such permits binding throughout the commonwealth. Such rules and regulations shall take effect subject to section thirty-seven of chapter thirty when approved by the governor and council. The forest wardens in towns and officials performing the duties of forest wardens in cities shall cause public notice to be given of the provisions of this section and shall enforce the same. Whoever violates any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than one month, or both.

You can get some idea of the queer quirks in our economic picture when a midget car designed to be within reach of the masses is on the market for $1,000.

There has been a lot of discussion over whether or not the voice of a powerful singer can break a glass. There is not even room for an argument. Elmer Twitchell says that whenever he sings, three or four glasses break, together with a plate or two and a pitcher. "Mrs. Twitchell never misses," he explains.

BACK HOME STUFF

We had our annual sleigh ride back home the other day, and nothing that ever happened in "Pickwick Papers" was much funnier. . . . We hauled out the cutter which we bought at the Milford church auction last spring and got a horse, Queenie, from Tex Neuen's stables. . . . Not having harnessed a critter in years, we must have gone wrong somewhere, for, while zooming along Cherry street nicely the sleigh hit a dry spot on the road and Queenie went right out from between the shafts. . . . There we were in the cutter, with the horse galloping 360 yards away! The business of catching the mare amused the townfolk no end. . . . Then we had to phone for Tex to scurry over with some haywire and install her between the shafts on a permanent basis.
